

MAYOR OF LONDON

Message of support from the Mayor for the work of the London LGBT+ Forums Network

As Mayor, it so important to me that the LGBT+ community feels truly valued, happy and safe in London. The capital should also be a place where trans and gender fluid people of all backgrounds are free to identify or express themselves however they wish.

To achieve my ambitions for an inclusive London, I am currently appointing the members of my Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) Advisory Group, which will have a twin focus on guiding City Hall's work to tackle inequality and create a fairer city, while ensuring the many key external stakeholders that informed the drafting of my EDI Strategy continue to be heard and involved on an ongoing basis.

By co-ordinating local community expertise from across the city, and speaking with a united voice, the London LGBT+ Forums Network is making a significant contribution towards improving the lives of LGBT+ Londoners, many of whom are not adequately served by mainstream service providers.

I look forward to engaging with, and hearing the important views of, the London LGBT+ Forums Network as part of the EDI Advisory Group stakeholder engagement process.

Sadiq Khan
Mayor of London
